RESUMÉ

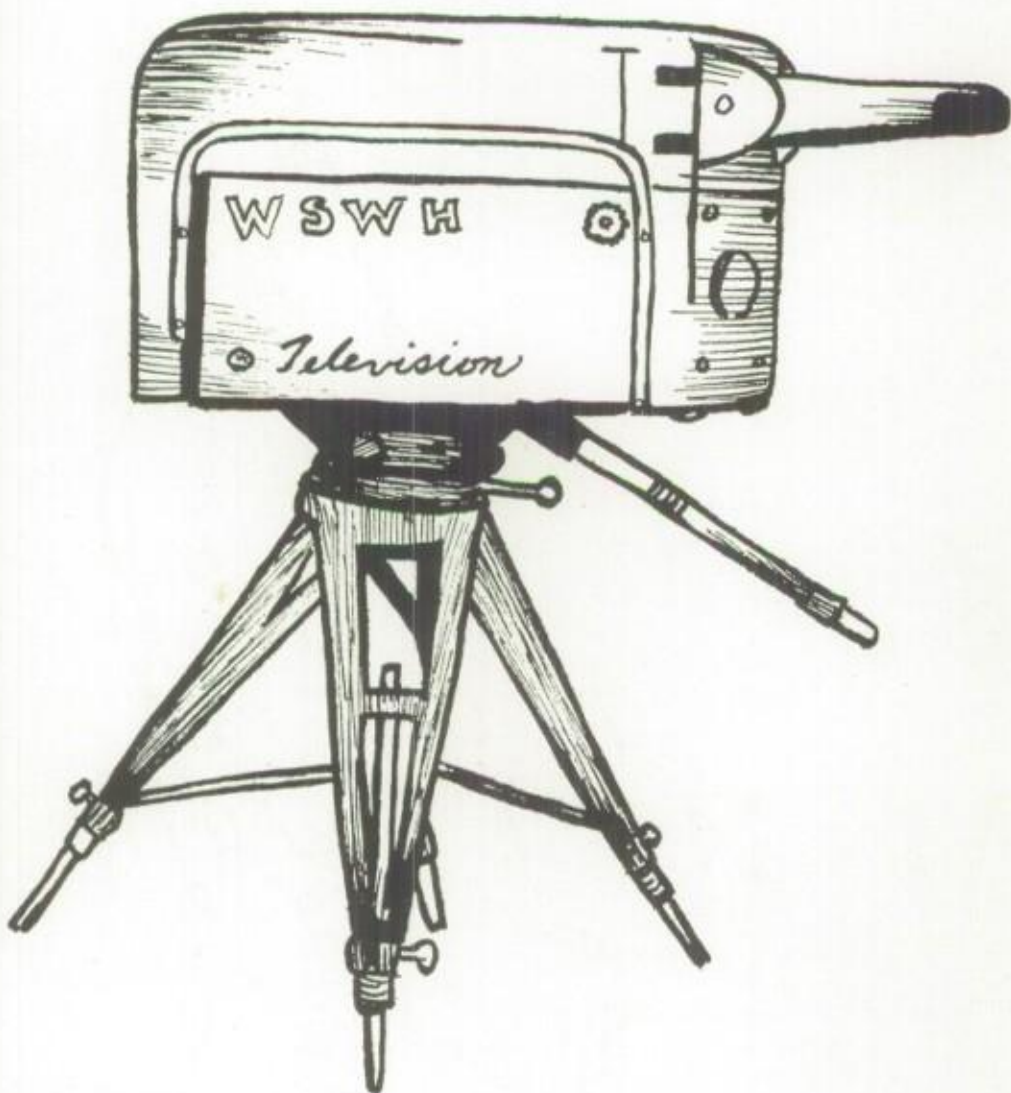

SOUTHWEST HIGH SCHOOL
ATLANTA, GEORGIA

Foreword

Through the eyes of television, the Resume' staff presents within these pages the school life and spirit of Southwest. We bring to you a vivid picture of our life here — the friendships, the good times, the hard work, and the training for citizenship.

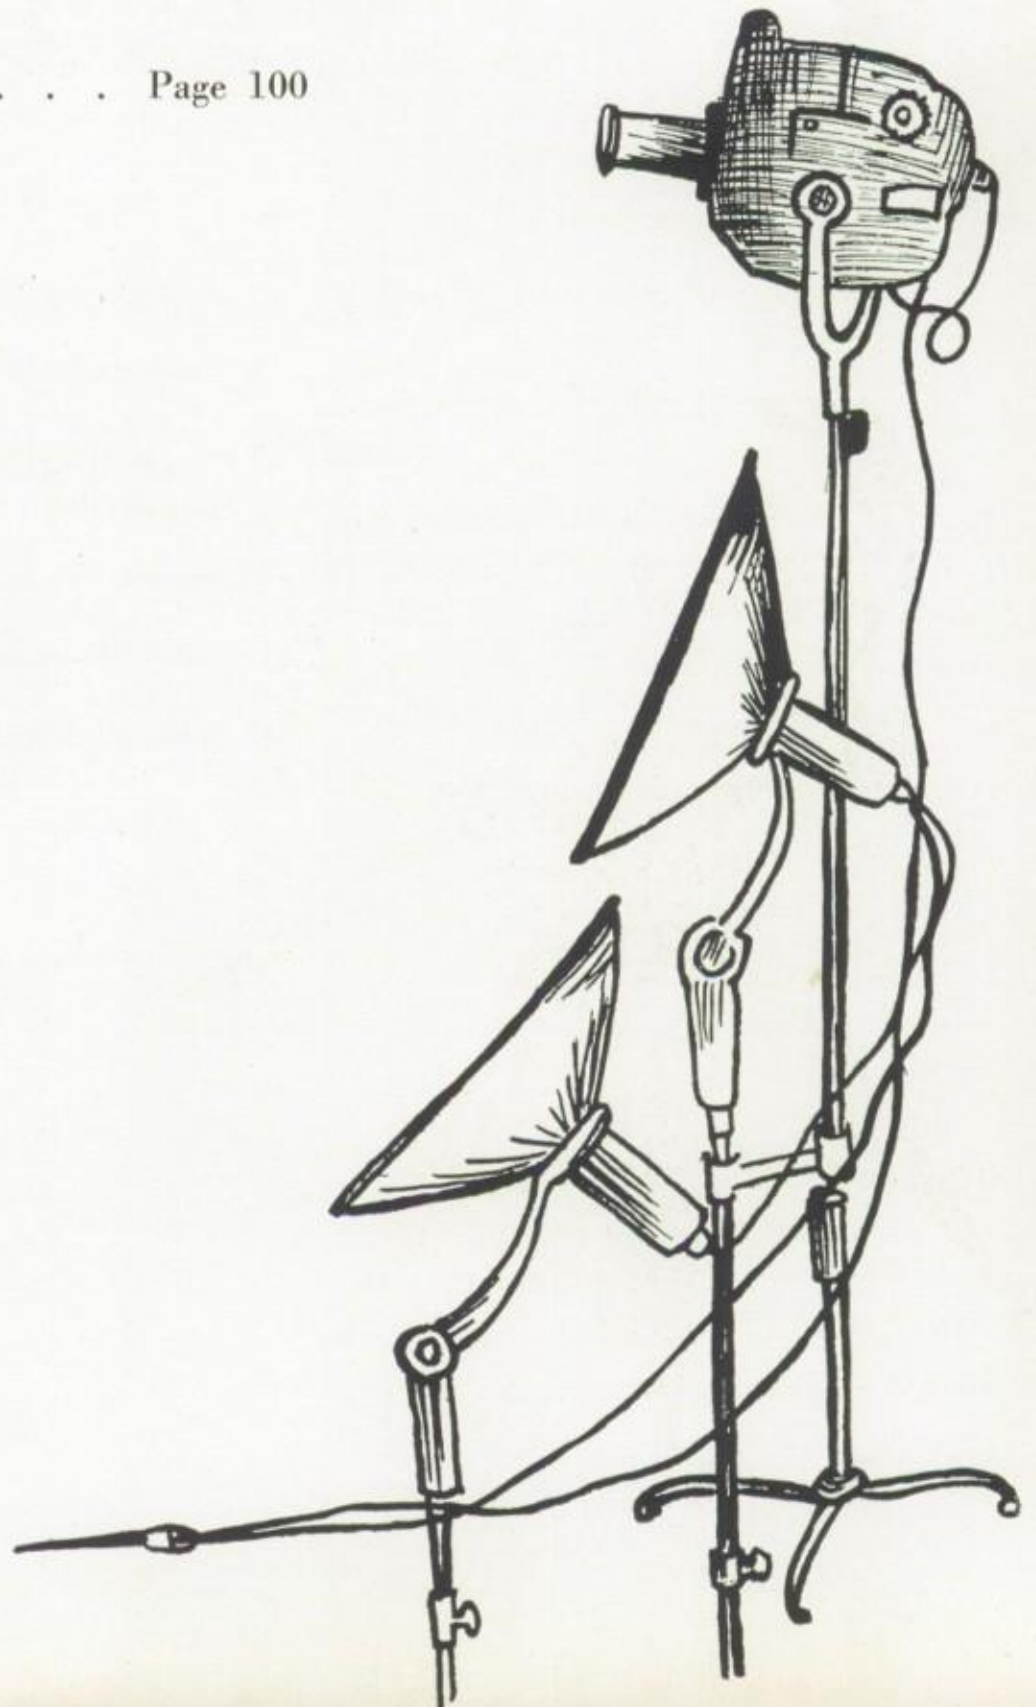

Our senior class has the honor of being the first class to complete five full years at Southwest. We have watched the growth of our school during these five years with great pride and admiration. It has become a part of our lives that we shall cherish. We have tried to capture for you within these pages the spirit of our school.

So — turn the dial to Channel 5, which represents our five happy years here, and view with us a resume' of 1954-'55.

A Tribute

To you who have been so understanding when we failed to live up to your expectations.

always set a Christian example for us.

encouraged us when the way seemed hard.

sacrificed to give us the material things in life.

been patient with our weaknesses and shortcomings. . . .

shared our emotions with sympathy and with kindness.

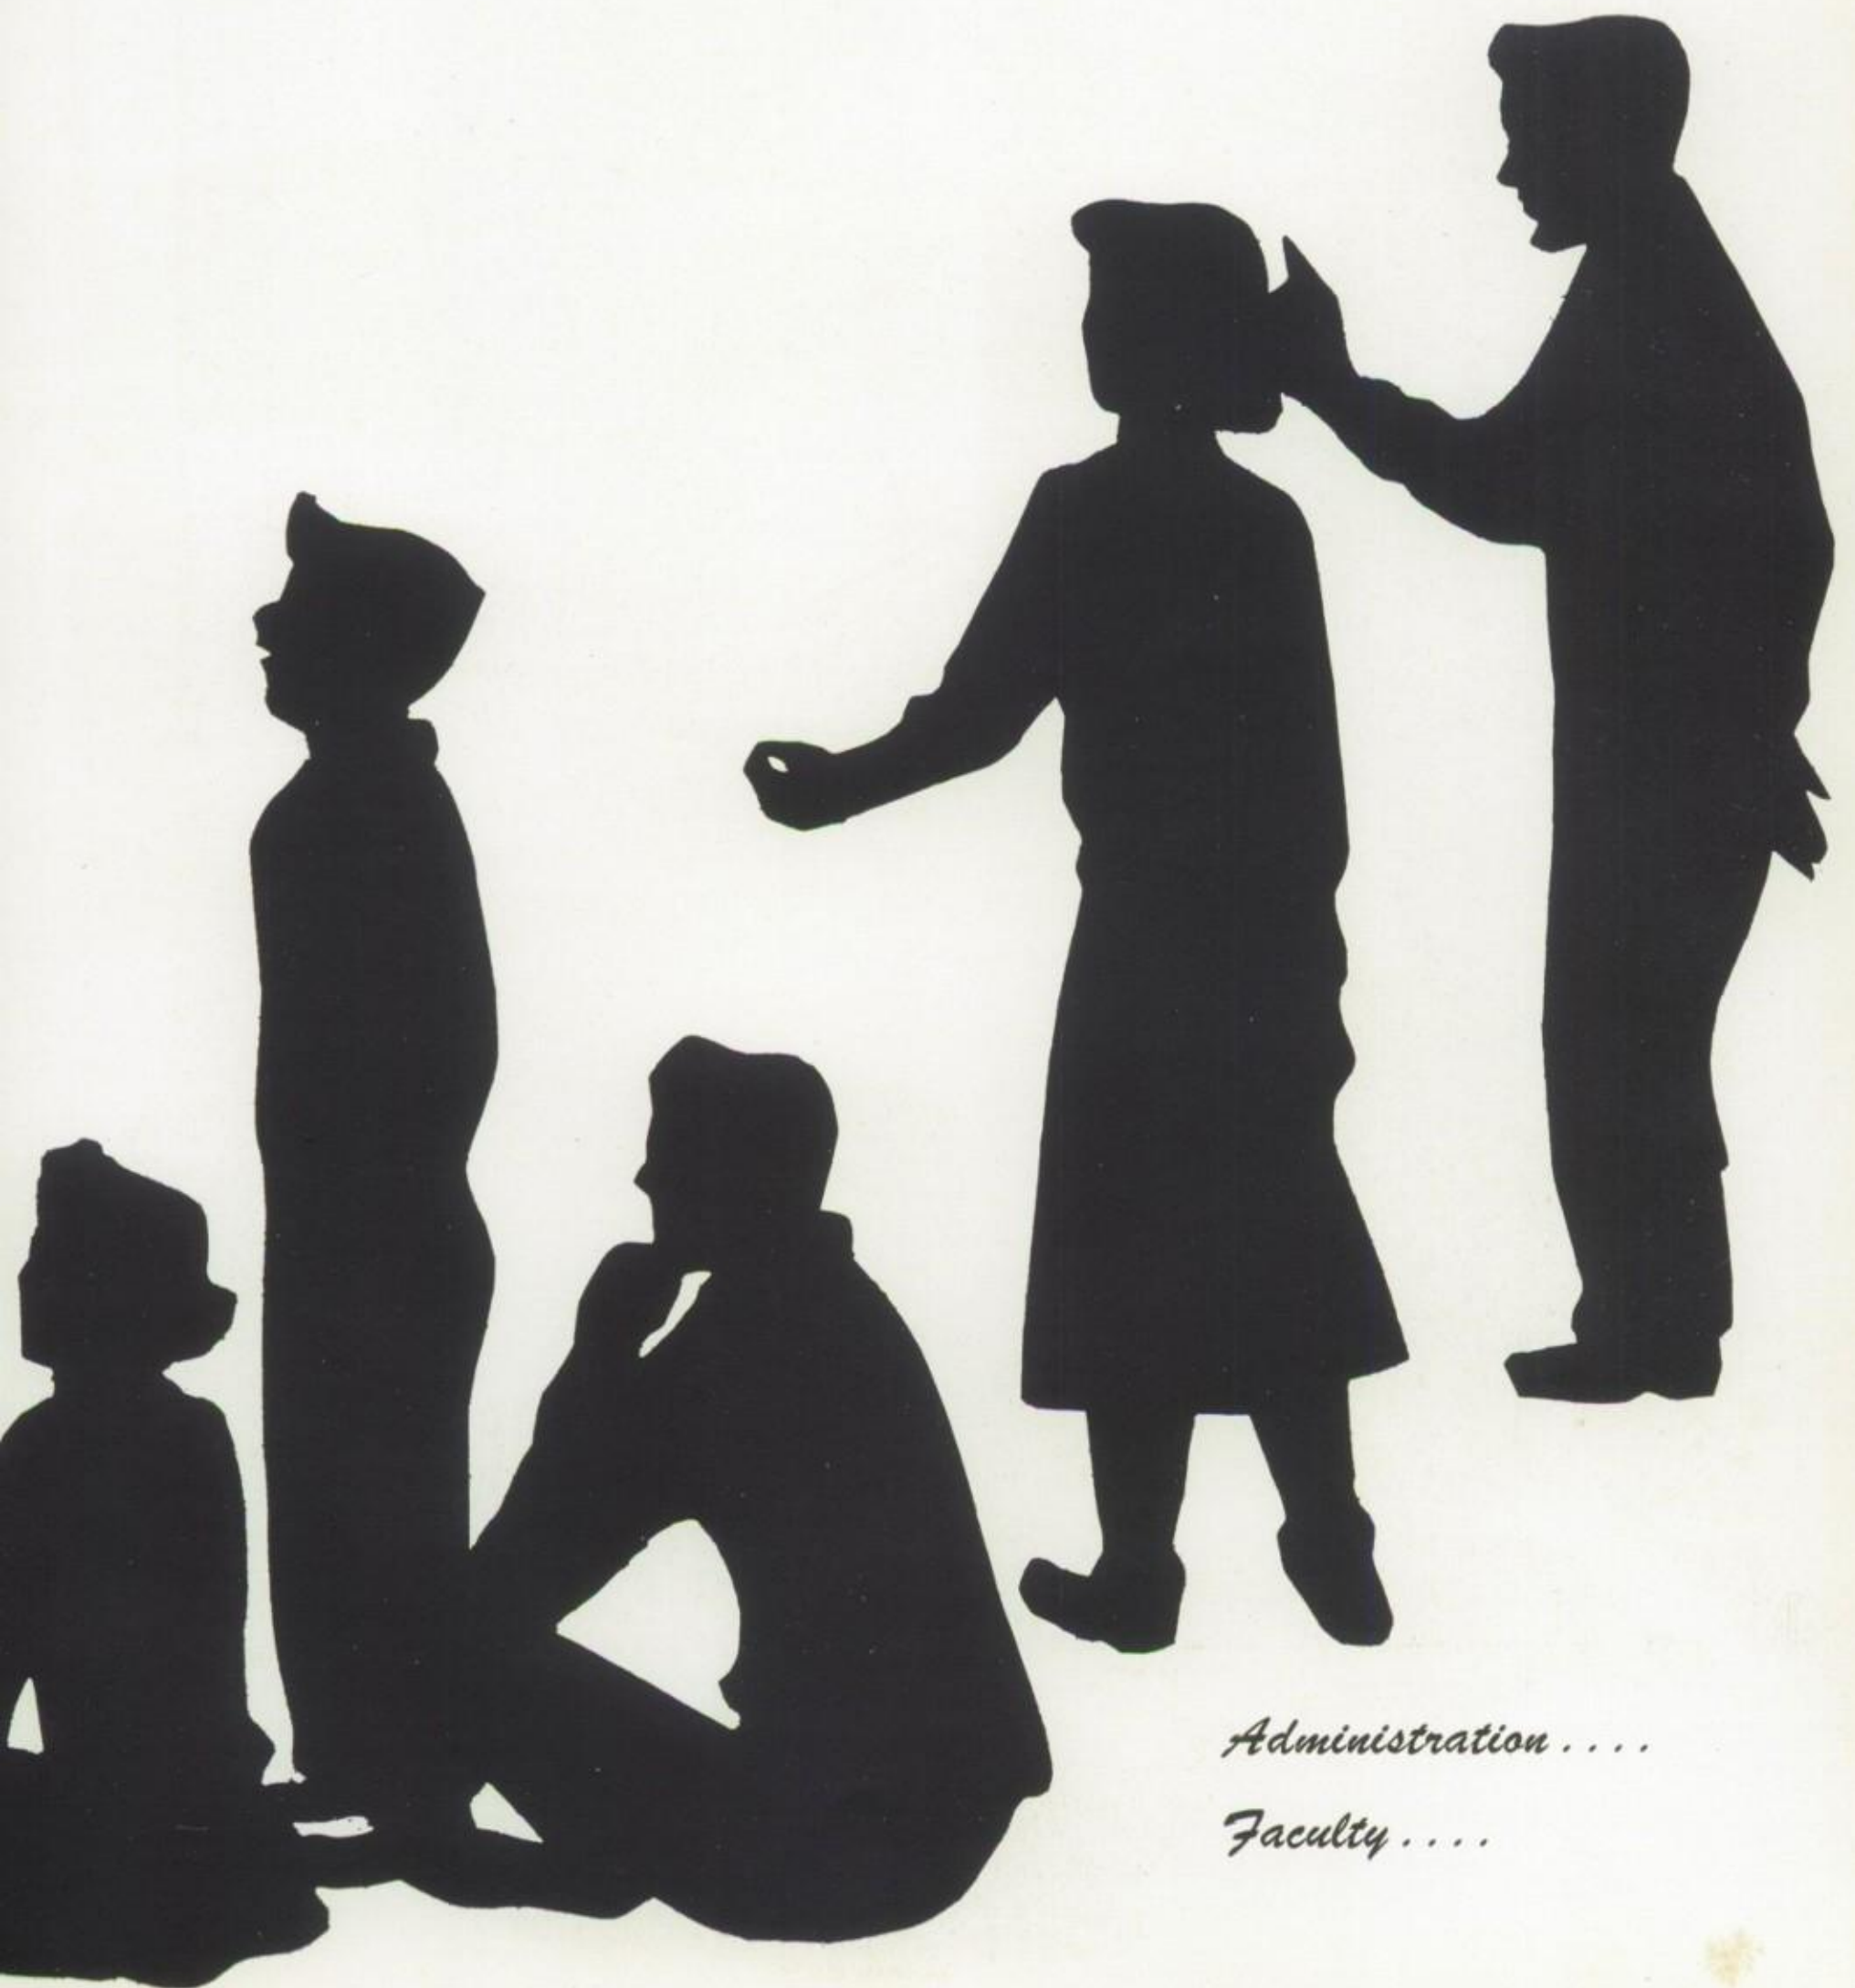

All of this you have done for us - - - - not because of duty but because of your love for us. In turn, because of our love for you, we Seniors dedicate this 1955 Resume to you

In a heated campaign during the spring of 1954 between our two political parties, the Eagles and the Falcons, our study body officers for this year were determined. For three weeks preceding the election, the candidates worked enthusiastically and tirelessly on speeches, posters, and various other campaign tactics. After these preliminaries, as in any democratic form of government, the students went to the "polls" and voted for their choice. Although the Falcons were victorious, everyone participating in the campaign benefited by the experience. These annual elections are helping us to build for the future, for today's students will be the citizens and leaders of tomorrow. Mr. Ballard is the adviser.

STUDENT COUNCIL

STUDENT COURT

John Bergstrom, Prosecuting Attorney; Margie Anna Langston, Clerk; Donna Hester, Clerk; Jere Adams, Judge; Trannell Hardin, Judge; Charles Allen, Head Judge; Barbara Beck, Judge; David Scoggins, Judge.

It is the duty of the party in office to set the plans for the government of the school. A Student Council composed of one representative from each home room is selected, and then with the help of capable faculty advisors a student council is set up. Five judges, two clerks, and one prosecuting attorney are appointed. This group tries the misdemeanors of the students who are referred to it. Order in the building is maintained by the hall patrols rather than by the teachers. Many cases brought before the court for trial are the result of the efficiency of the hall patrol.

HALL PATROL

Seniors having a wonderful time at Christmas Dance

OUR HISTORY

We, the Senior Class of 1955, being the first class to attend Southwest from its origin in 1950, have written for ourselves an interesting history filled with work, honor, and pleasure.

It seems only yesterday that each of us ambled over to Russell High School, waiting for our own building to be finished. While still attending classes at Russell High, our student body chose red and gold as the school colors and "Wolves" as our name.

Sometime in October the doors of our new Southwest were thrown open, although there was still work to be done on our building. Students were warned to stay away from the wet paint and to stay out of the way of the workmen. Despite these warnings, we seniors, who were sub-freshmen then, still have smudges of green paint on some of our clothes.

In October the first school paper came off the press. But, alas, it was nameless. Suggestions from the students, however, quickly solved this problem, and the question mark became the "Howl."

When the plans for this high school on the corner of Lynhurst and Sewell were drawn up, the Board of Education gave the new school the name of Southwest. Many students did not particularly care for this name, so three new names were suggested—J. B. Hood, A B C, and Lynhurst. After tabulating the votes it appeared that the students liked the name Southwest better than they thought because it won by a large majority.

Our athletic department got under way soon after our school was begun. This included the organizing of the four major teams—football, basketball, baseball, and track, as well as the minor sports. Of course, with the development of school spirit, there arose a need for the choosing of cheerleaders. It was, however, two years later that our band and majorettes began to take an active part in our school life.

In 1951 with our first senior class, our first yearbook, the Resumé, came to life. In April of this year our senior rings were selected. The rings of ten-carat gold feature the school motto, "Unita Fortior" (Stronger because united), the front of the building in detail, and on the opposite shank a wolf head over a weather vane which shows the direction of Southwest.

Then March, 1952, heralded the birth of Southwest's Alma Mater. The words were written by Richard Link, a senior, and set to the tune of "Halls of Ivy." What a thrill runs down our spines as we raise our voices in this grand old song!

As we approach the conclusion of our high school days, we look forward to a future filled with as many accomplishments as we have achieved in the last five years. With such capable leadership by the senior class officers, President, John Bergstrom; Vice-President, David Scoggins; Secretary, Patty Yarbrough; and Treasurer, Trannell Hardin, we feel that our class has been very successful and most outstanding.

The Howl staff this year has given Southwest its first printed paper, and has kept the student body well informed of every phase of school life. Marie Allen, Editor; Barbara Bearden, Associate Editor; Janell Bloodworth, Feature Editor; and Jackie Heard, Society Editor, deserve much credit for all their long hours of hard work.

The Resumé Staff deserves equal credit for their successful achievement in producing such a representative yearbook. Nancy Dunstan, Editor; Patty Yarbrough, Literary Editor; John Bergstrom, Advertising Manager; and Byron Hill, Business Manager, have supplied topnotch leadership in this enterprise.

Individual members of the senior class deserve special recognition. John Bergstrom was awarded the Harvard Book as the most outstanding Junior boy; Jack Rosser and Jimmy St. John won high prizes in city essay contests; Elizabeth Brown, a good citizenship award; and Margie Anna Langston, Southwest's Homemaker of Tomorrow.

In 1952, a two-party political system was introduced in our school. This year, after a thrilling campaign filled with fiery speeches, gay banners and great enthusiasm, Hal Watts was elected president of the student body with Nathan Mills as the Vice-President and Elizabeth Brown as the Secretary-Treasurer.

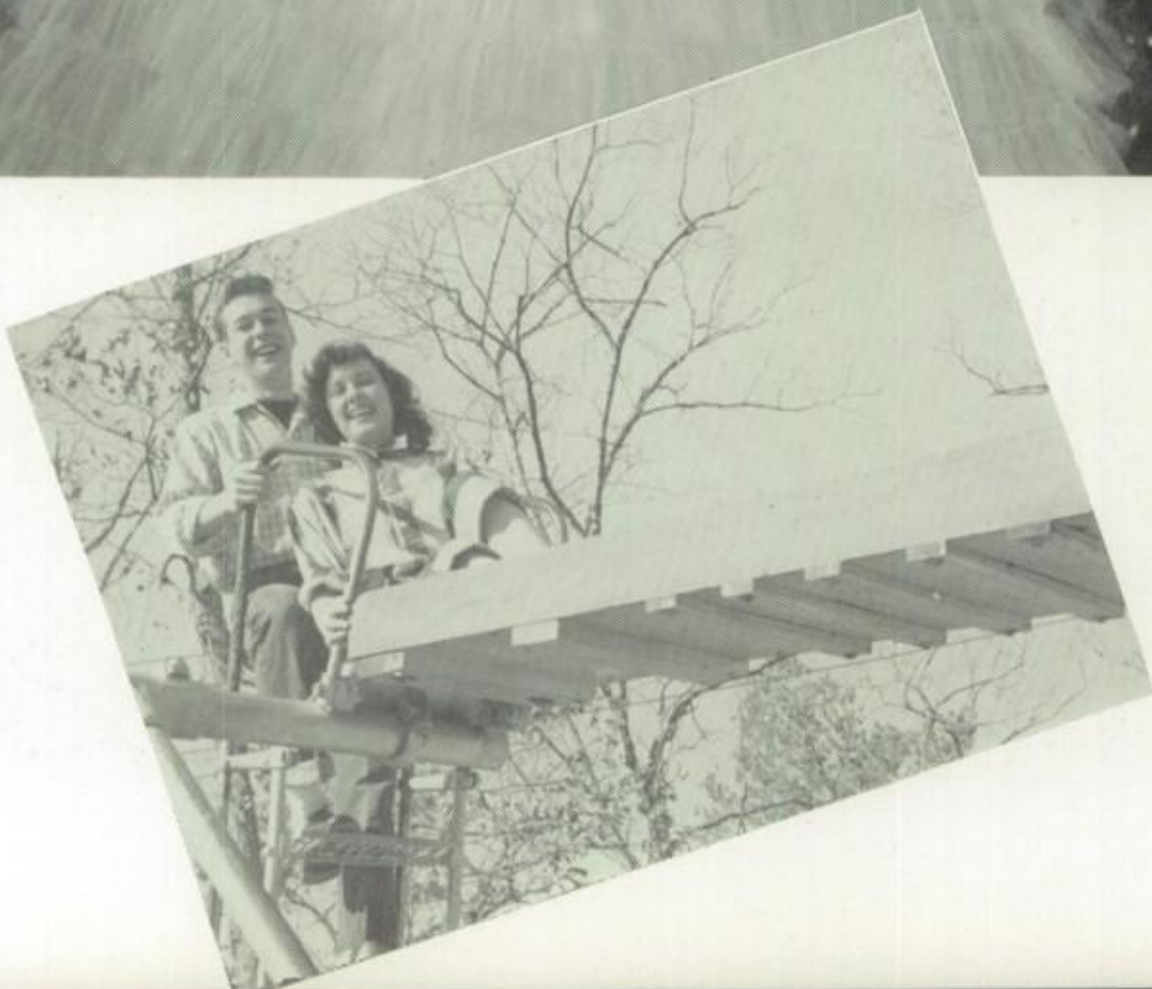

The friendship of the students and the co-operation of the teachers have made our high school years very happy and unforgettable. And so, as we prepare for our graduation, our voices happily blend in the true words of our Alma Mater, "We'll ne'er forget Southwest."

Superlatives

Our Senior year is highlighted by the election of superlatives. For weeks before the selection of these honored few, there is a feeling of tenseness and excitement among all Seniors.

After much discussion, each student is given an opportunity to write his choice for these coveted titles. Because of the high quality of all the seniors, the task of selecting the most outstanding members of our class was difficult. However, after much careful thought and consideration, we present to you our choice.

This production will not open until after the yearbook goes to press. How mad June Mad shall be is the unanswered question in the minds of director and cast. Now there is frantic activity: students leaving school to get nails or crossing town to a mattress factory for cardboard; rehearsals in the afternoon with snacks from the cafeteria or the Drug Store; intent checker games in the auditorium while awaiting cues; upsets with props such as shaving lotion and a wailing siren. Mad indeed, but all would agree it is an experience to be proud of and one not soon to be forgotten.

Sgt. CHARLES WILSON

HISTORY OF OUR MILITARY DEPARTMENT

The military department of Southwest was organized in September of 1952. It was under the direction of Captain John L. Lewis, Asst. P. M. S. & T., and M/Sgt. John W. Griney, Sergeant Instructor.

Its office was in a small room across from the gym. There was no room for an armory, so the rifles had to be kept in movable racks in the hall. The supply room was located off the boiler room where clothes and other military supplies were kept.

Our military department began operation with one hundred twelve caliber 30 M-1 rifles. A rifle team was organized but had to use the range and other facilities at Brown High School for practice and for the actual firing of the matches. In this first year of operation two companies were organized which were designated as Companies A and B. The Battalion Commander was Lt. Col. Marvin McAnsh.

Our second year of operation gave us a completely new military department. It consisted of two offices, an armory, two supply rooms, and a modern rifle range. The department was under the supervision of Captain Lawrence E. Enterkin, Asst. P. M. S. & T., and Sgt. Dar-nelle G. Craven, Sergeant Instructor. Our Battalion Com-mander was Lt. Col. Ronald Lewis.

During our second year we received, in addition to our M-1 rifles, 14 Caliber 30 Carbine Rifles. The Cadet Master Sergeants carried these rifles in drill while the other N.C.O.'s and the Privates carried the M-1. Another company was organized this year which made our unit a three-company battalion.

This third year of operation gave us our first M-111 Class. There are eighteen Seniors in this class who make up the Cadet officers. Six Browning Automatic Rifles and a 3.5 Rock Launcher have been added to our growing armory. The Department is now under the supervision of Captain Russell C. Hatch, Asst. P. M. S. & T., and M/Sgt. Albert McAuliffe, Sergeant Instructor. The Battalion Commander is Lt. Col. John Bergstrom. Our Rifle Team has done exceptionally well this year and is rated close to the top in the city standings. We are extremely proud of our ROTC unit and know it will continue to represent Southwest creditably.

Our club sponsors Sabre Day, Sponsors' Day, and several minor functions as well as the Annual Military Ball. This is a big social event for all the Military Cadets. Our Military Cadets always look forward to being members of this club.

BAND

Symphonic, syncopating, spirited and superb—that is our band. Whether it is to arouse our spirit, to cadence our steps, or simply to please our ears, the band always responds to the occasion with notable success.

Behind their accomplishments are many tedious hours of practice and preparation. May they know that we acknowledge the outstanding role they have had in our activities, and that we will be forever grateful to each of them.

They have performed proudly at all football games, giving several outstanding half-time shows. Parade viewers have been impressed with the band as it has taken part in various parades in the city. Under the capable direction of our band leader, Mr. Krause, it has grown not only numerically, but it has progressed musically.

Truly, the band is the very heart of the "Spirit of Southwest."

MAJORETTES

These high-stepping young girls have truly done a great job this year as always. In early summer they began practicing the complicated routines, which were enjoyed by all who viewed the half-time shows at the football games. These practice sessions usually lasted from four and a half to five hours daily. Along with these hours of practice, they also take instructions in baton twirling.

Last year Jackie Cook and Marian Kutscher attended the State Musical Festival, and both received ratings of Excellent. This year all eight girls are working toward a Superior rating.

Resumé

NANCY DUNSTAN — Editor

Many Juniors aspire to being chosen on the Resumé Staff for their Senior year. Getting together a creditable yearbook is always a challenge to them.

In the spring after the Resumé for the current year has gone to press, the Junior Class has a very important class meeting. The purpose of this meeting is to hear the members of the Resumé Staff discuss the duties and responsibilities of each officer. Then, after this discussion, the Juniors elect the Editor, Literary Editor, Business Manager, and Advertising Manager for the following year. Several joint meetings with the old Staff and Advisors are held at which time the new members learn something of the procedure followed in setting up plans for the yearbook for another year. Then these four officers are allowed to choose their assistants. During the summer months this new staff studies the lay-outs of yearbooks and begins to get ideas for the next book. This plan seems to eliminate unnecessary delay and confusion in getting off to a good start the following September.

The Resumé Staff quickly forgets the long hours of planning and working and feels richly rewarded when the yearbook finally comes from the press and is well received.

Howl

All is quiet in the halls of Southwest. Only the swish-swish of the janitor's broom breaks the silence. The rooms are empty; the school day is over, but still the members of the Howl Staff work on, rushing to beat the seemingly ever-present deadline.

This year the Staff has attained one of the goals it has worked toward since 1951—the publishing of a printed edition of the paper rather than a mimeographed one.

Each member strives to make the paper interesting, informative, and amusing to every person in the school. The articles keep students informed on the current news, the latest fashions, and the season sports. The Staff has tried to make the Howl an outstanding school paper that students look forward to receiving.

Mr. Thornton is the advisor.

MEMBERS WORK ON EMBLEM

The ultimate desire of every student is to achieve the highest honor possible, and this hope becomes a reality when he is selected for membership in the National Honor Society. Its members are those who are chosen on the basis of high scholastic attainment, good character, leadership abilities, and service during the four years of high school. That's a big order to fill, but the members of the Honor Society cleared these hurdles with flying colors. The students measuring up to these high standards are selected by the faculty and serve as examples to fellow students.

The Tapping of new Beta Club members was held in October in a very impressive ceremony. The surprise of being chosen as a new member and the thrill of it all are the culmination of an upper classman's dreams. These members are chosen for their outstanding qualities of leadership, achievement, and character.

From the first day of the fall semester until the closing minutes of the spring semester, the calendar of the Beta Club is full of events. Running a candidate for state office, sponsoring donut sales, presenting the annual Harvest Ball, and many similar projects have kept us on the run. Miss Mary Winterbottom is Sponsor.

Future Homemakers of America . . .

Sandra Lyon setting table

All phases of home economics, from the basic fundamentals of budgeting and the care of the child to the art of interior decorating are the interest of the F. H. A. This group was organized in 1950 to create a better understanding of the essentials of home management, and it has grown into quite a large one.

The members are learning to sew, cook, and to meet "new horizons" which will be facing them some day as homemakers, wives, and mothers.

Two of their most outstanding projects were the making of colorful rope necklaces and unique felt collars for sale to the students and faculty members.

Mrs. Kemp and Mrs. Clark are the sponsors.

Y-Teens

Peggy Boger, President of the Senior Y-Teens, presides over a regular club meeting. Also pictured are Miss Todd, Leah Mouchet, and Betty Roberts.

The Y-Teens, a branch of the Y. W. C. A., has in its charter such a set of high ideals that any girl at Southwest should be proud to be a member of this group.

The Senior Y-Teens includes girls of the Junior and Senior classes and offers fellowship, recreation, and an opportunity to develop leadership abilities which might otherwise remain undeveloped.

As the little sister groups of the Y-Teen organization, the tenth grade, Junior, and eighth grade Y-Teens represent the same high ideals as the Senior Y-Teens.

These Christian clubs have contributed much to Southwest and our community through their various activities, such as filling Thanksgiving baskets, sponsoring potato chip sales, and giving Christmas parties to needy families.

Future Teachers of America....

Mr. Wills gives class assignments to Jackie Heard, Angela Allison, and Marie Allen.

Sara Ann Nixon teaching Spanish class

Not always when students walk into a class room at Southwest do they find a teacher sitting at the desk! It is not unusual to find a member of our Future Teachers of America Club substituting for an absent faculty member.

This is an excellent way for students to be introduced to the profession that many may eventually follow. Then, too, those who are not sure of their career are given the opportunity of considering teaching before making a decision. Practice in the usual routine duties of a teacher as well as the actual instruction of the class is extremely valuable to our young people.

Our club is composed of eighteen Seniors at present who are very active in the affairs of the school.

Mr. James Brown is Sponsor of the F. T. A. at Southwest.

The Southwest Savings Bank is classified as a service club, but it is more than that. It is an organization that is patterned after and functions as a real bank, with its Board of Directors, officers, tellers, and workers. Every Wednesday sees about fifty students engaged in all sorts of banking activities.

But this experience is not the only benefit derived from the banking activities. The bank continually carries on a program encouraging thrift and has annually presented an assembly program with this theme. Working along this line, the bank also serves as a clearing house for the yearbook and senior invitation accounts with the idea of paying for them through systematic savings.

because of their nearness to us and because of their strategic and cultural importance to the United States. Mrs. Mackintosh is the advisor.

Projector Club

The students who are licensed to operate the motion picture machine often consent to run the projector during their free period for teachers who wish to show an educational film to a class.

Members of this organization accumulate information and experience which will be invaluable to them in their later life, regardless of future occupations. Amateur photographers get valuable experience from this organization by learning to take, develop, and print their own snapshots. Mr. Wynn is the advisor.

Club members spend many busy days hunting down elusive varieties of rock, and bringing back from their field trips all manner of unusual mineral formations and animal life.

Many of the members work tirelessly each year on projects to represent Southwest at the annual Science Fair. Mrs. Davidson is the sponsor.

These "busy little bees" are chosen at the beginning of the school year by the school secretary, Mrs. Whitehurst, and are certainly a splendid asset to Southwest.

Library Staff....

The Library Staff is composed of students who aid the Librarian in carrying out the policies and procedures necessary in operating the Library. They also aid in public relations. The work in the Library benefits them since they learn about books, magazines, pamphlets, and newspapers.

Pep Club

School spirit can be promoted. The job of handling and directing such enthusiasm is the purpose of the Southwest High School Pep Club. Founded in 1950, the Pep Club has taken on added activities each year.

Planning starts early each school term with the main social event, "Twirp Week," which is highlighted by the Annual "Twirp Dance." Then other functions—the Football Bon-Fire and the making of posters for athletic events—are their responsibility.

So the Pep Club does contribute greatly to the growth of school spirit, a better idea of good sportsmanship, and a better planning of school functions. Mrs. C. Clark is the sponsor.

This year a Junior Pep Club was organized. It is called the Booster Club, and participates in the same activities as its parent club. Miss McKee is the sponsor.

Clinic Staff

Assisting Miss Winterbottom in the work of the clinic is the main duty of the staff. The assistants try to care for those who become ill at school and do not feel like attending class, and they help in the handling of students involved in minor accidents. They also check by phone on the students who are absent from school. Learning to handle problems of this type is excellent training for these young people.

This good-will club is composed of high school boys and girls who are given the opportunity of making others a little happier. During Christmas the members conducted a drive for the collection of canned foods for the needy; at Thanksgiving they filled baskets as gifts for unfortunate families; and in the spring they sponsor the packing of gift boxes for children overseas.

For some students the study of a foreign language is limited to the classroom. For the members, however, the French-Latin Club creates an interest not only in the spoken tongue of the people, but it introduces them to the background and various aspects of French and Italian life.

Interesting activities of the year were the early fall initiation held at the Walter R. Thomas Lodge, and the club's presentation of the 1955 Sweetheart Dance. This organization also sponsored the annual Christmas party and the spring picnic. Membership requirements are two years of either French or Latin. Miss Willis is the sponsor.

ADVANCED ART CLUB

Four years ago the art students at Southwest High School decided that they needed some means of expression for their artistic talents. As a result the Advanced Art Club was formed, and since then it has enjoyed steady progress. The Art Club's accomplishments are numerous and varied. Decorations for the annual Sweetheart Dance and work in leathercraft have been their two biggest undertakings this year. The A. A. C. has a full social calendar with many fun-filled affairs such as the annual Christmas party and excursions to various museums. Mr. Salter is the Advisor.

The Senior Dramatics Club, under the direction of Miss Owens, strives to create interest in dramatics and to teach students who belong to this organization how to develop some acting ability. Music

There's music in the air! Giving pupils a chance to develop their own musical talents and affording them the opportunity of singing for their own enjoyment are reasons enough for a Music Department. However, there are others—and important ones, too. Presenting musical programs in assembly, appearing at P. T. A. and competing in the Spring Music Festival are all splendid training. Mrs. Pennington is the Director.

Cafeteria . . .

CAFETERIA STAFF

The Cafeteria is one of the most important parts of our school. Every day, when preparing our food, the staff endeavors to please our taste while serving well-balanced meals. Because of the excellent planning by Mrs. Stevens and the fine preparation of food by the experienced cooks, including Lillie, who has been with us four years, our Cafeteria has been very successful. To help the staff with the serving, the Cafeteria employs many student helpers. They have the opportunity of gaining useful experience for future use.

Those who work in the cafeteria are Pat Ashworth, J. R. Barge, Pat Burns, Frank Callaway, Carol Cantrell, Billy Cochran, Bill Crim, Inez Croft, Betty Jo Davis, John Davis, Shirley Fannin, Ricky Fisher, Pat Goodwin, Pat Gossett, Carl Johns, Myralyn Knight, William Little, Carolyn McElroy, Pat Marshall, Peggy Mathews, Frances Morris, Huvian Moss, Jimmy Pass, Jane Picklesimer, Luther Pilgrim, Raymond Poucher, Earl Rice, Hugh Rice, Jack Shelfer, Barbara Skinner, Pat Stevens, Betty Stilley, and Sammy Webb.

Coach Brannon—Football, 8th Grade Basketball, B-Baseball.

Coach Greer, Head Coach—Football, Track, Cross Country.

Coach Brenner—Girls' Basketball, 8th Grade Football, Tennis, Golf.

Under the roof of Southwest can be found one of the most able coaching staffs in the city. This year they have achieved great popularity with the fans as well as with the players. Their thorough knowledge of their particular phase of the game and their keen sense of value have been greatly appreciated by us at Southwest.

MANAGERS

With every sports event there are managers present. Often times these necessary students are forgotten, but theirs is an important job. In the afternoon practices they tape ankles, issue equipment, see that uniforms are cleaned and put up, and account for the balls. Then, too, they are entirely responsible for the equipment and the well being of the athlete during the game. Southwest has the privilege of having a very cooperative group of managers.

The wearers of school letters, earned in varsity sports, compose the Block Letter Club. Participants in the four main sports, varsity football, baseball, basketball, and track, are privileged to be the members of our boys' and girls' Block Letter Clubs. All sports are boosted by those two clubs with creating better relations between our other students and our athletes as their prime purpose. Coach Greer is the boys' advisor and Coach Brenner is the girls' advisor.

VARSITY FOOTBALL

In September, as the football season faced us, little did we realize the improvement the football team was to show. This season our boys have had a true spirit of fight and determination. Everyone has been greatly impressed in spite of the odds against our team.

Although most of the boys were young and new at the game, they have inspired everyone who has seen them face to face with tough competition. We believe the saying "Just wait 'till next year" will prove true for us.

Our team promises to go far next season. We are glad only seven members of the team will leave because of graduation. The Senior Class wishes the best of luck to both players and coaches for another year.

SOUTHWEST 13 — COLLEGE PARK 12

The Wolves rolled to their first victory in two years by overpowering a gallant College Park team. This muddy tussle kept all of the fans spellbound until the final whistle announced Southwest's victory.

SOUTHWEST 20 — BASS 34

The young Wolves tried out the Bass Warriors the second game of the season. With one win under their belts, Southwest made a creditable showing against their heavier opponents.

SOUTHWEST 0 — MARIETTA 19

The Wolves met the Blue Devils on a cold and wet field. Our boys proved their defense ability by holding Marietta to a scoreless tie until the fourth quarter.

SOUTHWEST 13 — FULTON 35

Southwest's final game of the season was played before a large crowd. Although the Southwest team lost in score, the offense proved to be as good as any team in the southern division.

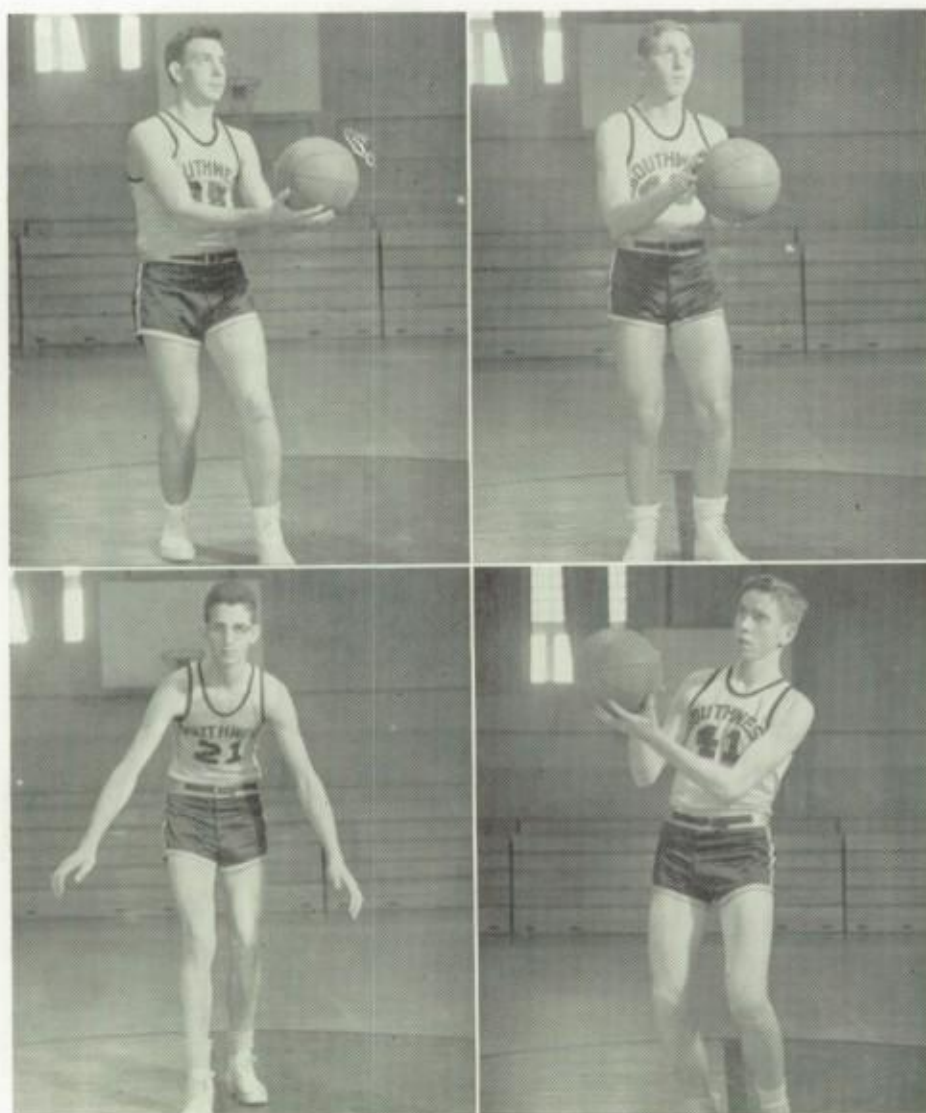

BOYS' BASKETBALL

Almost before the football team had completed its last pass, minds were turning to basketball. Basketball at Southwest got off to a bad start. The young hoopsters, suffering from lack of experience, however, rose up to crush our arch rival, the Brown High Rebels, by a score of 87-72. The courtmen had the service of only three returning boys. On the following night the Wolves forced Sylvan, the southern division leaders, into an overtime but finally bowed by a five-point loss, 43-48. Next year we hope to have a much improved team, as we have no graduating members.

GIRLS' BASKETBALL TEAM

The Southwest lassies have never let us down. Last year they came in third in the State tournament, and this year they have given us a repeat performance. During their regular season they won all of their games with the exception of the Smith game, lost by two points, which was truly a creditable showing. They fell to North Fulton in the final game of the city tournament by two points, which gave them second place in the city. This entitled our team to play in the State tournament in Moultrie. Our girls placed third in the State and brought home a trophy. Martha Tovell was high scorer in the city league this season.

CROSS COUNTRY TEAM

This year our Cross Country Team won a great victory, not in meets won, but in securing new recruits. Most of the boys were new and inexperienced, but they all had the will to win, and there was fine team spirit. These boys, with this year's experience behind them, are destined to become champions.

VARSIITY TRACK

The track season opens after the Resumé goes to press; however, these are the team members for this season. They compete each year in such events as shot-put, discus, javelin, hurdles, high jumps, and dashes, usually making a creditable showing. Last year they won one meet and lost two. One of the members, Frankie Samples, represented the team in the State Meet in Athens in broad jump. This honor was offered to the top three in the city in each event in track.

As in all major sports, the coaches and boys put in much hard work and spend many long hours training.

The Wolves diamondmen completed the 1954 season with a 9-3-0 win-loss-tie record. Although the hitting power of the team was weak, it was practically made up for by the strong pitching. Our team was responsible for two honors at Southwest. They won the city trophy for the city championship and as city champs went to the state tournament and brought back a third place trophy. Although the complete first-string left us with their graduation, we do have some of last year's team returning.

Team members preparing for practice.

This is the second year that Southwest has been represented in the Southeastern Interscholastic and the Atlanta High School swimming meets.

The fact that our school is not equipped with a swimming pool did not stop Martha Tovell and Joanne Lock, because their willingness to get ahead urged them to many hours of practice after school at the athletic club and the Y. W. C. A.

Last year our team could not compete for school trophies because we lacked a sufficient number to make a complete team. Once we attain a complete team, however, Southwest will be eligible to compete in the relays interscholastically and possibly win a few trophies.

BOYS' TENNIS

Tennis is becoming a more popular sport with our students since our courts have been improved. Since tennis calls for co-ordination, skill, and a will to win, it is a real challenge to one seeking a good game. We are trying to encourage more participation in tennis from our boys and girls.

PEP SQUAD

The Pep Squad, which was founded in 1950, holds weekly meetings to determine the various features of the scheduled football games.

From time to time the Pep Squad makes interesting formations while marching with the band on the field. This squad is the main support of Southwest's cheerleaders.

BASEBALL

These boys do not share the glory of the varsity, but they certainly have the satisfaction of knowing that any victories that the varsity has are due partly to the effort these B-TEAMS have put forth during the week. They are responsible for the good practice games with the varsity during the week. Then too, they have games of their own, which are training these athletes to be the varsity of tomorrow.

EIGHTH GRADE SPORTS

These baby Wolves show up as a promising hard-fighting team as they strain to replace their varsity brothers in their future years at Southwest. For many of these boys the sub-freshman year is the first encounter they have had with athletics of any kind. This is the beginning of a career in sports for a majority of these students.

FOOTBALL TEAM

The G. A. A. is an organization of girls who endeavor to develop their physical skill through athletics. These students stay after school hours to participate in the planned sports.

This organization is a very important part of Southwest, for it provides the recreation that every student needs for a well-rounded school life.

The sports activities from which one can choose are basketball, volleyball, archery, tennis, softball, tumbling, and a rifle team.

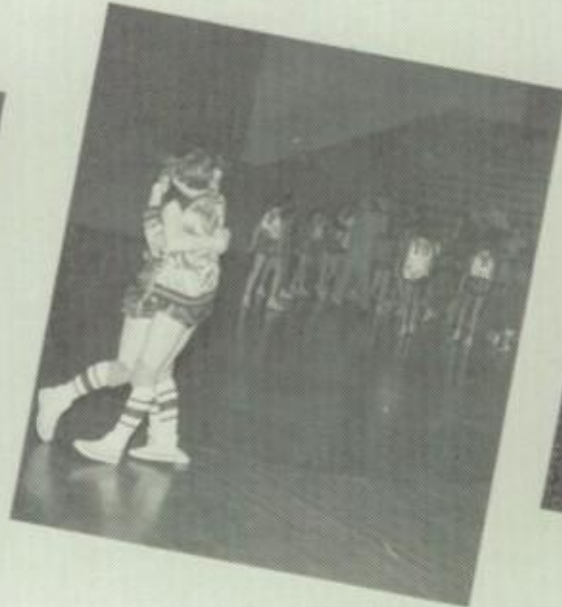

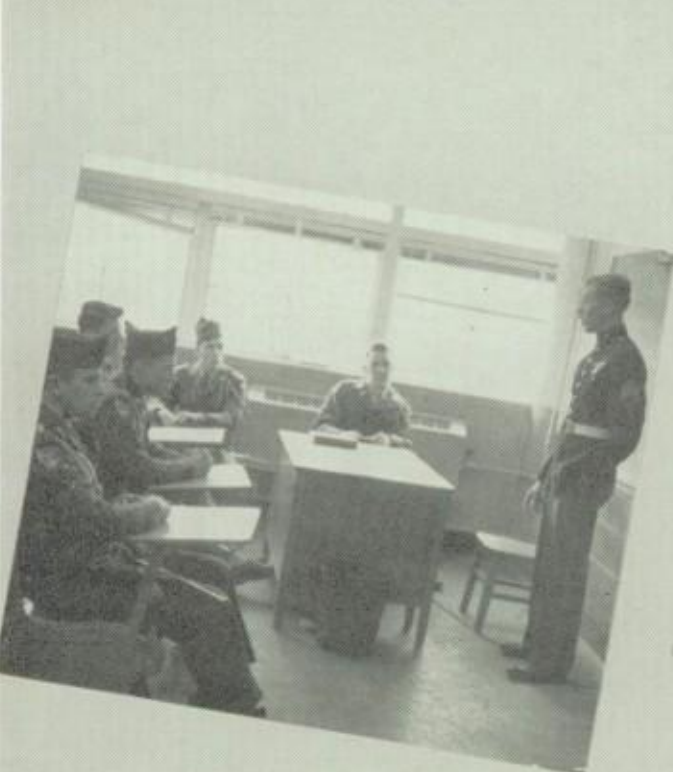

The Physical Education Department, under the direction of Mrs. Carolyn Clark and Coach Howard Brenner, provides an all-round program of exercises and games for the boys and girls of our school.

In Physical Education there are activities to suit all tastes. We have basketball, volleyball, softball, baseball, archery, badminton, shuffle board, and ping pong. Each spring and fall, the department gives motor efficiency tests to determine the proficiency of the students in different phases of physical exercise.

Our Physical Education classes are helping us to grow physically while our other classes are helping us to grow mentally.

Graduates of the Class of '55 will be among the first to enjoy the privilege of attending college in the only air-conditioned Georgia marble classroom and library building in the South at the

ATLANTA DIVISION, UNIVERSITY OF GEORGIA.

The new library, with its spacious reading rooms, contains a growing collection of study materials, carefully selected to support the academic program of over twenty fields in Business Administration leading to the B.B.A. degree, as well as in Nursing Education and General Studies. R.O.T.C. program also is offered.

Spacious student lounges, with modern age furnishings, are open on landscaped patios. A roof-deck provides an out-of-doors area, in addition to the Gymnasium, for games and student dances.

Career Guidance Center, placement office, work-scholarship plan, and Student Credit Union, give specialized student services.

"Ike" Chapter of FTA

DAFFYNITIONS:

Quintuplets: Two pairs of twins and a spare.

Staircase: A patient whose eyes won't close.

One time there were two men going through a cafeteria line. The man in front had one carrot stuck in each ear. The man behind asked him, "Why have you got those carrots in your ears?" No answer. He repeated his query louder. Still no answer. He repeated the question again still louder. This time the man in front turned around and took the carrots out of his ears. He asked, "Were you talking to me?" The second man replied, "Yes." "Oh, I'm sorry, I didn't hear you, I had carrots in my ears."

One time the minister was visiting the house of one of the families in his congregation and they asked him to stay for dinner. All the dishes were passed around and the preacher took some of all courses until he reached the spinach. He took a spoonful of this and put it on his head. All the juice ran down over his face, but he continued the meal. When second helpings were passed out, he again put some spinach on his head. When he did this again on the third helping, one of the family asked him, "Why do you put that spinach on your head?" The minister replied, "Spinach! My gosh, I thought it was potato salad."

The teacher turned on little Freddie, "Young man," she said, "I will have to keep you after class again!"

"O. K.," replied the 8-year-old, "but I'll have you know half the town says we're going steady."
